Vol. XX .... No. 6,031.

NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1860.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

Will be published on Saturday : FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISH. LATIN, and ITALIAN LANGUAGES WITHOUT & MASTER,

Any one or all of these Languages can be learned by any one without a Teacher, with the aid of this Book,

Dy A. H. MONTRITH, esq., To be published by

T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS.

THE ROBERTSONIAN METHOD of Learning the French, of a teacher, has, for the last ten years, seems is and is, without a throughout the whole European Continent; and is, without a single exception, used to teaching the modern languages in all single exception, or England, France, and Germany. and his works on the study of FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISE LATIN, and ITALIAN, without a master, contained in this vol-ume, immediately obtained a sudden and extraordinary popular Any persons unacquaisted with these languages ity. Any persons unacquinted was tree sainty and speak, the language of either, without the aid of a teacher, or any oral instruction whatever, provided they pay strict attention to the instructions laid down in the work, and that nothing shall be passed over without a thorough investigation of the subject it involves; by doing which they will find themselves to be able to cook said or write either language, at their will and pleasure. French is in Six Easy Lessons, Spanish is in Four, German is in Six, Latin is in Six, and the Italian is in Five Easy Lessons, or I wenty-Seven in all. This work is invaluable to any person wishing to learn either or all of these languages, and is worth to any one one hundred times its cost. This work has already ran through several large editions in England, for no persons have friends. Everybody should possess themselves of a copy of it at

COMPLETE IN ONE LARGE DUODECIMO VOLUME BOUND IN CLOTH, PRICE ONE DOLLAR AND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A COPY.

Read what Dr. R. Shelton Mackenzie, the Literary Editor of

"There is no royal road to learning; but where the learner heavily dragged on his lambering way in former times, he now has a new tack and wonderful engmes, which greatly ractitate has progress. Study this book casefully, and you can soqure near half a dozen languages in the time usually wasted upon the imperfect acquisition of one. Sadly, as well as wisely did Milton write. We do amiss to spend seven or eight years merely in scraping together as much latin and Greek as might be learned easily and delightfully in one year. John looke, Sydney Smith, and other great schelars, bear like testimony.

"Montestra book, here before me, profuses to make any one of reasonable capacity and soliable industry read, write, and speak five languages (four of them living tongues), without any sacistance from a teacher. Ellin Burritr's case shows how intellect and the desire to learn can make a man master the principal dead and living languages. This book, and a real desire to learn the language, will enable a student to teach himself French in an increabily short time; and so with the other languages. The Messra Feterson confer a great benefit on society by publishing this book."
